Mr. Charles Willard, Librarian
Speer Library
Princeton Theological Seminary
Dear Mr. Willard,

Your very kind letter of July 17th. reached me on July 23rd, with its generous enclosure of one hundred dollars.

The delay in replying is due to the fact that with heavy winter colds, it seemed best not to answer as a prophylactic measure.

It may be some time before you receive the return of "the token" because I wish to get the best possible for it.

My cousin D^r Gonzalo Corbalan told me of his pleasure in knowing that D^r Anne Marie Sagat, from Princeton, had taken away the bulky bundle of books, which you wrote me had got to you by stages. Once the journals were lost for two years in transit, which I had told him so that is why he felt pleasure when some one from Princeton took them away.

Dr Iwen Paal wrote to me of his emotion seeing the journals in your office at the Speer Library; for it is due to him that they reached their true abiding place.

You spoke with such kindness of me that I was touched. (You must be a Leo for they enjoy communication by letters while an Aquarius like myself enjoys the passing moment)

It is very kind of you to ask me to pass to see you if in the States. Gonzalo wants to take me as his secretary in 1976 for the national anniversary. He has a passion for anything Trumbull & as a yearly contributor to the Yale Art Gallery wants to read a paper there for the celebration. It's all in the air, an idea to be played with.

Thank you for your continued courtesy and gracious letter, Sincerely,

Rue Trumbull
